Russia Agrees to Return the U.S. Fliers

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has agreed to return two American fliers shot down over East Germany March 10. Their fellow crewman was released Saturday.

The announcement that the two were to be freed was made Sunday by Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation." He got the word by telephone from Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin just before going on the air.

"I would hope the matter will now be taken off the books," Rusk said. The secretary did not say when the fliers would be freed, only that "they shortly will be back in this country."

The fliers are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Minn., and Melvin J. Kessler, 31, of Philadelphia. The third member of the crew, Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit, was freed by Soviet authorities Saturday.

The Russians have been insisting that the fate of the Americans was a matter to be settled by the United States and East Germany. Washington has refused to deal with the East German government, contending the Soviet Union is still the occupation authority in East Germany.

The Russians "are simply releasing" the men, Rusk said. "The Soviets came to their own conclusion these men should be released."

The secretary sidestepped, however, a question as to whether the United States had established the principle that the incident was a Soviet responsibility.

At a news conference Saturday, President Johnson declined comment on Welch's release and did not discuss the plane incident.

Court Stands on Expense Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its decision in a case involving public relations expenses for constitutional officers.

The court ruled that the officials could draw the expense money but they had to certify that money had been spent.

The decision was handed down in a suit in which William M. Berry attacked constitutionality of Act 399 of 1961.

The act appropriates $1,800 a year in expense money for the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, attorney general, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and land commissioner.

Section 3 of the act stipulated that the auditor should simply draw a warrant each month for $150 in behalf of each of the officials without any evidence being submitted that money had been spent for public relations.

The court declared that Section 3 was unconstitutional but that the rest of the act could stand and the officials could draw the expense money by filing an affidavit that they had incurred expenses.

Berry argued in his appeal for a rehearing that the Supreme Court did not have the right to sever Section 3 and let the rest of the act stand since the act did not have a severability clause.

In rejecting the petition for rehearing, the court said the court had for years severed unconstitutional sections of law and this had been done long before the legislature adopted the device of writing severability clauses into its acts.

Fight Could Pop Up in Legislature

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus stuck to his prediction today that the legislature will pass a voter registration law and end its special session by the end of the week.

The general assembly convenes at noon Tuesday for the session.

"Of course, something can always come up," Faubus said today. "But as it looks now, I would say the session should be over by the end of the week."

Faubus will address a joint session of the House and Senate in the House chamber shortly after noon Tuesday.

The governor said he would fly to Wilson today for the funeral services of W. J. Denton, vice chairman of the Highway Commission, who died Sunday in Memphis.

The only controversial matters considered the basis for a long argument are designation of a registrar and annual or permanent registration.

Seventeen matters besides the registration bill are in the special session call.

David Nelson, 15, of Paragould was killed Saturday night when a train smashed a car at a crossing a half-mile north of Paragould.

The death brought to 11 the number of violent deaths in the state during the week ended at midnight Sunday.

State Trooper James Danley said the collision near Paragould seriously injured Nelson's brother, Hershel, 17, and Eugene Roswell, 23, of Marmaduke. Danley said Roswell was driving the car.

During the week six persons were killed in traffic accidents, two drowned, two died in farm accidents, and one died from burns.

Sees Climb in World Cotton Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Cotton Advisory Committee predicted today that world trade in cotton this season will climb to near the record 1959-60 season.

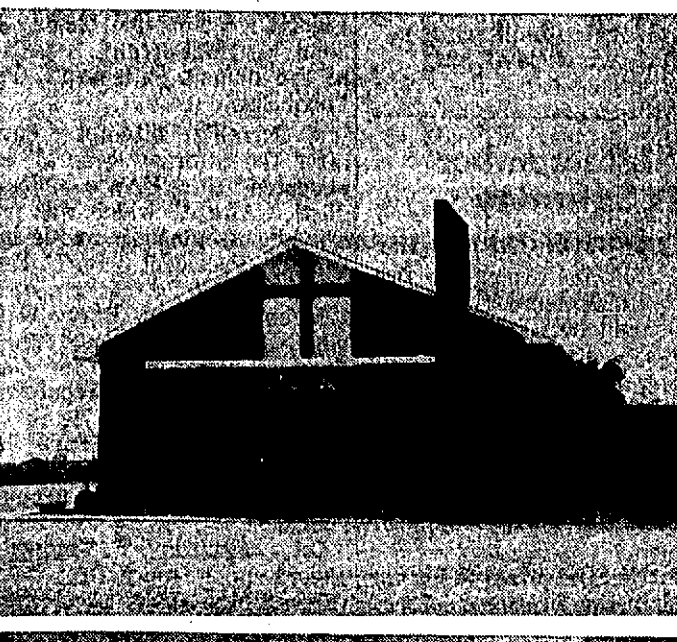

This optimistic trade outlook was based primarily upon an expected modest increase in consumption in net importing countries and unusually heavy purchases by the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe and Mainland China.

The committee is an inter-governmental agency representing 40 cotton producing and consuming nations.

Forecasts of exports from the United States were put at 5.2 million bales compared with about 3.4 million last season.

Final Rites Today for W. J. Denton

WILSON, Ark. (AP)—Funeral services for William J. (Bill Joe) Denton, vice chairman of the state Highway Commission and a prominent businessman, were set this afternoon at Wilson.

Denton, 44, died Sunday in a Memphis hospital after a short illness.

He was president of the Crain Company of Wilson, a member of the board of the Mississippi County Bank at Osceola, vice president of the Craighead Rice Milling Co. at Jonesboro and the Armored Planting Co. at Blytheville.

Denton was also a member of the state Racing Commission. He was appointed to the highway commission last year to fill the vacancy created by the death of John E. Crain, who was his brother-in-law.

Denton was a well-known amateur golfer and had won tournaments at Memphis and Little Rock.

The Highway Department announced Sunday night it would not be closed, but employees could go to the 2 p.m. funeral at the Wilson Methodist Church.

Denton is survived by his widow, Ruby Crain Denton, a son, Billy, and two daughters, Sally and Kitty, all of Wilson; his parents, two sisters and a brother.

Johnson Calls for Warm War for Well Being

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)

President Johnson called for a "warm party war" today for the well-being of the American people.

The President spoke in his first address to the big labor organization, at the annual convention of the United Auto Workers Union in the Atlantic City Convention Hall. This will be the setting for Johnson's expected nomination for the presidency by the Democratic party next August.

Three thousand delegates and perhaps 9,000 guests gave the chief executive a rousing welcome and broke into his address with loud and frequent applause.

One of the loudest outbursts came when he assured the convention that "we are going to pass the civil rights bill if it takes all summer."

The convention has adopted a resolution backing the bill.

The President was not making a political speech labeled as such. But the talk had political overtones.

His party and he, himself, are counting on heavy labor backing.

Johnson lauded the UAW as "a clean, honest and progressive union led by President Reuther and his fellow officials, all elected democratically by your votes."

He said that whatever the challenges or the complexities or the crises confronting the nation, it never stands straighter or stronger in the world than does the individual at home. He said that militarily this nation is strong, and no country is stronger.

This led Johnson to the point of declaring that now the times at home require "a warm party war for the well-being of the people at home."

This brought a burst of applause.

There was another when Johnson assured the UAW that "we are going to pass the medical assistance bill for the aged and do so no matter how many months it takes."

The convention will map union goals for this year's contract bargaining.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers had laid down so-called guidelines that wage increases should be geared to a 3.2 per cent annual productivity gain in industry as a whole, with a price cutback being made by industries with profits outstripping productivity increases.

But UAW President Walter P. Reuther told a news conference last Wednesday that the annual productivity gain in the auto industry is 4.9 per cent, instead of 3.2, and that the higher figure Continued on Page Two

New Signs at Local Intersections

The City Street Department is replacing all the stop signs in the downtown area with new red, fully reflectorized, signs that measure 30 inches across the face. The old signs were not reflectorized and measured 24 inches.

The new signs will be much easier to see, and meet the requirements of the State Uniform Traffic Code. The city already had a number of the new type signs located at some of the more dangerous intersections.

Three years ago the Police Department made a survey of the city and found that it would take 185 new signs to bring all intersections up to standard safety requirements.

The survey indicated that yield right-of-way signs could be used at many of the more open intersections, where safety does not require an automobile to come to a complete stop.

Since this survey, all changes in stop signs have been made according to this plan. About one-third of the needed changes have been made. Following a plan of changing out the oldest, more damaged ones first, it will take about three years to complete the program.

U.S. Court Rules Favorable to Castro in Property Seizure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro won a major victory in the U. S. Supreme Court today. The high court ruled 8-1 that U.S. courts are without power to pass on the expropriation of property in Cuba owned by Americans.

Justice John M. Harlan delivered the majority decision. Justice Byron R. White wrote a dissenting opinion.

The case involved efforts by the Castro government to recover $175,250 proceeds from sale of a cargo of sugar shipped to this country by a Cuban manufacturer whose property was seized.

Most of the capital stock of the manufacturer is owned by residents of the United States. The Supreme Court decision does not end the litigation in this particular case which may become a precedent for others involving millions of dollars.

The high court said that the U.S. District Court in New York may still rule on questions that may be raised as to any possible breach of contract and on a question of "theory of conversion" as affected by New York law.

What the Supreme Court did do is this: it said lower courts were wrong in ruling that seizure of property in Cuba belonging to Americans was in violation of international law and Continued on Page Two

Nehru Urges Pakistan to Help Halt Riots

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru has urged Pakistan to join with India in measures to halt Moslem-Hindu rioting which has resulted in some 200 deaths in eastern India.

Nehru made the proposal in a private letter to Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan on Friday, informed sources disclosed today. Nehru was described as greatly concerned that the religious disorders might turn into massacres and provoke new trouble between India and Pakistan.

The 74-year-old Indian leader, still recovering from a mild stroke in January, urged immediate talks between the home ministers of both nations as a first step in a joint effort to prevent further bloodshed.

Ayub Khan has not yet replied to Nehru's overture, the sources said.

Nehru described the rampages of Hindu mobs as a reaction to anti-Hindu rioting in East Pakistan last December and January and the flood of Hindu refugees into India from the predominantly Moslem area, the sources said.

The Indian government says 150,000 refugees from East Pakistan entered India in the first 11 weeks of the year. Some Christians were in the exodus.

Bodcaw Creek Bridge Completed

HOPE—Construction of a reinforced concrete and structural steel bridge across Bodcaw Creek on Highway 160 south-east of Bradley has been completed. The bridge and approach work cost approximately $156,500. The contractor was R. H. Davis Bridge Construction Co., a Stamps firm.

Davis' firm was also awarded the contract for construction of a bridge across McKinney Bayou 13 miles east of Texarkana on Highway 82. A work order has been issued and construction will begin in the near future. The bridge will be a reinforced concrete slab span structure 270 feet long.

Winthrop Is Choice of Republicans

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Republican party's executive committee gave little hint of past squabbles when it approved Winthrop Rockefeller as a candidate for governor.

The unanimous endorsement Saturday included that of party chairman William Spicer of Fort Smith, often at odds with the state GOP national committeeman.

The committee also welcomed together in favor of a permanent registration system with stringent safeguards against fraud.

It endorsed 12 proposed safeguards modeled after the Arkansas Municipal League's voter registration recommendation.

The committee deferred to the state committee a ruling on who was elected committee representative from the 4th Congressional District. Warren Lieblong of Pine Bluff and Ike Cartier of Benton were elected on different ballots. The state committee meets April 4.

Two Death Sentences Affirmed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today the death sentences given two Drew County Negroes who were convicted for raping a 23-year-old white woman Feb. 16, 1963.

Attorneys for the Negroes, Orion Trotter and Albert Harris, listed numerous grounds for reversal of the convictions, including alleged racial discrimination in the selection of the jury.

But the Supreme Court rejected all of them in a unanimous opinion written by Chief Justice Carlton Harris.

The court dismissed the jury discrimination contention by noting that the attorney for the Negroes did not use but eight of his 12 peremptory challenges during the jury selection.

The opinion noted that there were eight Negroes on the list from which the jury to try Trotter and Harris was selected, that two were dismissed by cause by the judge, that three were challenged by the attorney for Trotter and Harris after they had been accepted by the prosecution, and three remained on the panel when the jury was seated.

The court also rejected arguments that the trial court erred in failing to grant a change of venue, in appointing one attorney to defend both men and in admitting to evidence an alleged confession by Harris.

The suit for the $175,250 was brought by the Banco Nacional De Cuba as financial agent of the Cuban government.

The receiver was to hold the money for the benefit of shareholders of the sugar manufacturer, Compania Azuca - Rera Vertientes-Camaguey De Cuba.
The Supreme Court's decision turned on what is known as the "act of state doctrine." The doctrine holds that American courts should not pass on validity of acts of foreign governments performed in their capacities as sovereigns within their own territories.
Harlan's majority opinion said in effect that it was difficult decision, and one that would not be popular, but that the court majority felt it was necessary.
"However offensive to the public policy of this country and its constituent states an expropriation of this kind may be, we conclude that both the national interest and progress toward the goal of establishing the rule of law among nations are best served by maintaining intact the act of state doctrine in this realm of its application," he said.

Reuther Rules Out Support for Kennedy

By CAR L. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther has blocked a move to have the union's convention pledge its support to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Reuther quickly ruled out of order such a motion Sunday by John M. McCarrell, president of the union's Pittsburgh, Pa., Local 544.

McCarrell's attempt came after the attorney general had accepted the UAW's "Social Justice Award" which was presented posthumously to his late brother, President John F. Kennedy.

Returns Body of Slain Cuban

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The United States has returned to Havana the body of a Cuban air force helicopter pilot slain by two defectors when he refused to fly them to Florida.
Also aboard the U.S. government plane was Cuban cadet Sergio Roque, 17, crewman aboard the hijacked helicopter that landed here Friday. He survived the gun battle over the Florida Straits.

Two immigration officials were aboard the Federal Aviation Agency plane that left Sunday night for Havana.

The Fidel Castro government had demanded return of Roque, the pilots body, the two anti-Castroites who sought U.S. asylum, and the helicopter.

The State Department said extradition of the two defectors must await court action.

The helicopter remained in Navy custody here. Investigation was reported under way on how the helicopter reached Key West without being detected by a new $4 million Navy radar installation.

Ohren. Olson bought into the show 12 years ago.

Survivors include the widow; one son, Dan Olson of Riviera Beach, Fla., and one daughter, Mrs. Gail Carmean, Lake Worth, Fla.

Olson was a native of Chicago and had lived in Hot Springs in the off-season for the past 20 years.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — James Costigan's tender play, "Little Moon of Alban," could not have been a happier choice for NBC's "Hall of Fame" Easter program.

The 90-minute drama Wednesday night was a new production of a play first presented six years ago.

The play was rich in sentiment and often lit by flashes of wit and humor, but has a triumphantly religious theme.

It is the story of a young Irish girl, who shocked and grief-stricken by the death of her fiancé in the "trouble," retreats desperately into a religious order. As a nursing sister, she finds her spiritual strength in her love for a British officer as she nurses him back to health.

Julie Harris, who played the girl in the original version, may be a bit mature but she is such a superb and sensitive actress and so right in the role that the question of age was soon forgotten.

Dirk Bogarde a handsome young Englishman with some of James Mason's angry good looks, played convincingly and attractively the part of the caustic British lieutenant whose love triumphed over his terrible wounds.

The new character of an attractive young congressman, belatedly introduced on CBS' "East Side, West Side" in an effort to improve the series' ratings, was conceivably inspired by a real member of the House of Representatives, New Yorker John Lindsey.

Russian UN Men Best of Diplomats

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Nikolai T. Fedorenko has one thing in common with the five men who preceded him as the Kremlin's spokesman at the United Nations: he is regarded by his colleagues as a top-flight diplomat.

But the Soviet delegate, now beginning his second year at U.N. headquarters, represents a new breed. Suave, scholarly and affable, he bears little resemblance to such old-Bolsheviks as Andrei V. Vishinsky.

Fedorenko, 51, wears a bow tie like an American college professor, wears well-tailored clothes, speaks English passably and has a doctorate in classical Chinese literature.

Because of the differences of style, objectives and the international atmosphere, it is difficult to measure him against the performances of his predecessors. His colleagues agree, however, that he is doing his job well.

Once or twice he has shown that, if the occasion calls for it, he can be just as persistent as VanNess of El Dorado, visited in Hope this weekend.

Mrs. Frank Robins, III and Mrs. Robert Ott, both of Conway, visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Neal this weekend.

Mrs. Foy Hammons accompanied her son, Foy, Jr., home to Miami, Fla., Sunday.

AMA Rapped for Stand on Cigarettes

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP) — A top-ranking surgeon said today the American Medical Association is derelict in its duty for failing to urge that all cigarette packages and advertising carry a health hazard warning.

Dr. Alton Ochsner, emeritus professor of surgery, Tulane University, and a pioneer in indicting cigarette smoking as a major cause of lung cancer, made the statement in addressing the sixth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Andrei A. Gromyko or Jacob Malik. But his main task is to reflect the atmosphere now emanating from Moscow, while their job was to fight the cold war bitterly.

Some Western diplomats compare him to Arkady A. Sobolev, who was perhaps the most popular of the Soviet permanent delegates. Sobolev, an electrical engineer by training and a one time assistant secretary general of United Nations, is regarded as the best negotiator among the Soviet representatives.

While Fedorenko seems to be well suited for the mission he has to carry out in 1964, one can only wonder how he would have done in 1946 or in 1950. Would he have been able to carry out the unpopular assignments given to Gromyko and Malik?

When Gromyko took over as the first permanent U.N. representative, he was 37 and already a deputy foreign minister. Unsmiling by nature, he presented a grim picture as he hammered away at the West.

When Malik succeeded Gromyko, there was little change. Malik had a role in two historic events. He opened the door, in a television speech, to the armistice negotiations which led eventually to the end of the Korean War. Along with U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, he negotiated the end of the Berlin blockade in 1949.

DOROTHY DIX

HERE'S TEST TO TELL IF YOU'RE TRUE ARISTOCRAT

By Dr. Joyce Brothers

A few summers ago, an ordinary American career girl of fair-to-middlin' social origins spent her summer in England. She made the acquaintance of a full-fledged duchess, and the two hit it off exceptionally well. The duchess invited the girl to spend a weekend at the family castle.

Naturally, when the girl came back to the States, we were eager to hear about her noble adventure.

She confessed that what she had observed at the castle had left her all shook up. The behavior, she said, of an English lady is not necessarily what we Americans think of as being ladylike.

Suppose your fairy godmother deposited you in one of the guest rooms of an old and honored castle. Would you feel right at home? Or would you stick out like a sore thumb?

Here's a True-False test you can take to find out how closely your manners and behavior conform to that of the old-old rich. If you do well on this test, you are entitled to ask your husband to take the garbage out tonight, because you, my dear, are a natural aristocrat.

1. If my living room carpet were badly worn, I wouldn't want to have hubby's boss and wife over for dinner until it had been replaced. True or False?

2. It would be darned silly to treat the janitor at my child's school with the same courtesy and respect I show the principal. True or False?

3. Bad table manners in another person spoil my appetite. True or False?

4. I love getting dressed up in new, richly cut clothes, especially if the fabric is elegant. True or False?

5. I don't think it's ever necessary to raise one's voice. True or False?

6. When I get an itch, I try not to scratch in public. True or False?

7. I'm always prompt and careful about writing thank-you notes. True or False?

And here are the correct answers that a thorough-and-through aristocrat, an English lady with a mile - long pedigree, would probably give to this test. You may be surprised, but she would answer "False" to questions 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6. The only statement in this entire test that a thoroughbred lady would absolutely agree with is number 7.

When it comes to taste and manners, long-line aristocrats make a sharp distinction between what they call "the decencies," and what they rather scornfully refer to as "the proprieties." To a true-blue aristocrat, the decencies are all that count.

The decencies have to do with the basic way that an individual treats other persons, whether he's kind, cruel, generous or selfish.

The proprieties have to do with the more superficial aspects of social behavior, such as table manners, refined speech, and so on. The aristocrat feels that if a person wants to gulp his food, speak in a blustery voice, indulge in a delight of scratching an itch, that is his business. An English duke or duchess is perfectly free to be rather crude, as far as some of the seemed middle - class proprieties are concerned. And to tell the truth, many of them are.

But on the other hand, English lords and ladies feel that it's extremely important to treat people from all walks of life with equal respect and dignity. Aristocrats assert that members of the middle class tend to show obsequious behavior toward the right and mighty, and scornful, rude behavior to the underprivileged or unfortunate. Aristocrats find this double-deal in manners quite contemptible, and make a point of showing everybody, high-placed or low, equal courtesy.

Two Languages Confuse Children?

Dear Dr. Brothers: What does it do to a child when he speaks English at school and with his friends, and Spanish at home? Won't it slow up his thinking or mix him up? My wife and her mother won't use anything but Spanish in our home. —F. W.

Dear F. W.: It won't mix him up or slow up his thinking at all. Experiments have shown that use of a foreign language does not interfere with the thinking process. In fact, modern educators believe that youngsters who hear a foreign language in the home have an advantage. The knowledge of two languages help a child in both high school and college. It enriches his cultural background, and if he wants to learn a third language, it will be easier for him to do so.

TOKYO (AP) — The Venus De Milo is recovering today from a slight case of mal de mer (sea sickness).

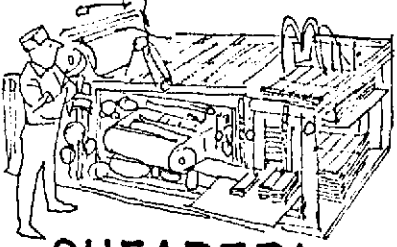

The famous armless lady arrived Friday after a 33-day voyage from France with four small chips in the folds of her robe below her left hip.

"It is not serious," said the relieved deputy curator of Paris' Louvre Museum, Hubert Landais, after the statue was uncrated at the Museum of Western Art.

Landais said Venus would be in good shape for her Tokyo debut April 8. The statue was loaned by France for exhibit in Japan until June 25.

TREASURY BETS ON THE $2 BILL—It figures: the Treasury Department hopes to popularize the use of the much-maligned $2 bill. Since it costs about a penny to print a bill of either one or two-dollar denomination, printing costs would be reduced if more $2 bills were in circulation. As for confusing two's with one's—Thomas Jefferson's portrait graces the $2 bill, and citizens would soon become as familiar with it as they are with Washington on the $1 bill, and Lincoln on the $5 bill. Too, making change would be simplified, as many of our purchases are made in dollar-plus amounts. Main headaches: getting banks and stores to use the bills in making change, and customers to accept them as run-of-the-pocketbook money.

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — "There'll be another Cyprus when he gets back," said Mrs. Beatrice Lane, whose husband and another Canadian soldier stowed away aboard the Cyprus-bound aircraft carrier Bonaventure.

Cpl. Michael Lane, 31, of near-Boutillier's Point, and Pvt. Charles Bell, 32, of Halifax, were discovered about three hours after the carrier said Wednesday night with troops and supplies for the U.N. peace force in Cyprus.

The pair said they stowed away because they wanted to serve with the U.N. force. An army spokesman said they would be disciplined and returned to Canada.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon predicts that President Johnson will pick Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to run for vice president on the Democratic ticket next November.

The former Republican vice president said in a taped radio interview in Miami (on WLBW) that the political odds favor the late President John F. Kennedy's brother as Johnson's running mate.

The next most likely candidate, Nixon said, would be Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Bond Issue Would Build Truck Center

By ALVIN SCHAY

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If Little Rock voters approve a $1.2 million bond issue April 28, Central Arkansas will get its first $5 million-plus payroll since the Little Rock Air Force Base was established.

And the bond issue to build a new terminal for Strickland Transportation Co. would cause no new taxes.

Act 9 of the industrial financing program to provide new and larger facilities for a company already located will be used by Little Rock for the first time.

Under Act 9, no new taxes are levied because rental on the facilities will amortize the issue.

Edward M. Penick, president of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce, said he is confident voters will give the Strickland bond issue enthusiastic endorsement.

"It has been a long time since we have had the opportunity to bring into Little Rock a payroll of more than $5 million," Penick said.

Besides the payroll, which is expected to reach $4 million, Strickland will buy each month about $46,000 worth of fuel, $75,000 worth of truck repair parts, $99,700 worth of tire recapping, and eventually, some $35,000 to $40,000 worth of new tires a month. These expenditures added to the payroll will bring about 7 million a year into the capital city.

Strickland now employs about 275 person in Little Rock, and the new terminal would bring in about 300 more. The 575 would be the second largest number of employees in the area, with U.S. Time Corp. the largest employer.

The Strickland facility would be in the Little Rock Industrial District.

About 200 drivers would be transferred to Little Rock from Dallas and Cleveland.

L. R. Strickland, president, said his firm was faced with major consolidation decisions because of changes taking place in the trucking industry. He said the proposed Little Rock terminal would be the largest facility in the Strickland system.

B. A. Burns, Strickland vice president and general manager, said the firm considered moving all the operations from Cleveland and Little Rock to St. Louis, which he said is better located from the standpoint of roads.

Burns said Little Rock has advantages from a labor standpoint, and "affords us a better point of consolidation of freight, enabling us to get longer hauls and better use of equipment and dispatching than at St. Louis."

Richard, Liz Mobbed by Admirers

BOSTON (AP) — A press agent for Elizabeth Taylor complained today that the actress was injured by an unruly mob of youths who stormed Logan International Airport and a Boston hotel for a look at her and her actor husband, Richard Burton.

Discussing a jam at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in which the Burtons were jostled as they pushed their way through the lobby Sunday, John Springer said Mrs. Burton required the attentions of a doctor after the incident.

"She wrenched her back and arm," he said, "and was almost in a state of collapse."

"I've never seen such an uncontrolled reception," he complained. "The Burtons wanted to say hello to their fans, but under these conditions it was impossible."

Hotel manager Daniel Nyboe, who ran interference for the couple to get them inside the hotel, described the experience as "the worst thing I've been through in my life."

By the time they reached the elevator, Burton was in a rage and his wife near hysterics.

The Burtons arrived here with the company of Shakespearean players who will present "Hamlet" at the Shubert Theater, opening Tuesday.

Strickland will dispatch about 100 units daily from Little Rock to all points on its system. The firm has 1,800 employees and operates in 14 states. The home office is now at DALLAS.

If voters approve the bond issue, the move will take place in two or three months.

The 27-acre site will include a terminal 440 by 80 feet, an attached office 40 by 90, and a 460 by 100 foot garage. The rest, about 24 acres, will be an asphalt paved parking area for the 400 to 500 truck units that will locate at the terminal on weekends and holidays.

Burns, a Pike County native, said the firm was happy to take advantage of "the bond issue Little Rock has seen fit to provide — or that we hope it will. He added he was 'personally glad to get the operation located in Arkansas.'"

Labor Czar Is Ousted by Canada

By FRED W. COLEMAN
OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian officials anxiously awaited a response from union seamen today to the removal of Hal C. Banks as Canada's maritime labor czar.

Banks, 55, the U.S.-born labor leader who has been the central figure in the Great Lakes shipping war, was ousted on Wednesday from the presidency of the 15,000-member Seafarers' International Union of Canada. The dismissal was ordered by the government board of trustees for Canada's maritime unions.

The ouster was announced simultaneously in the House of Commons and at union headquarters in Montreal.

Forty policemen surrounded the union building in anticipation of trouble, but there were no incidents.

In Vancouver, however, seamen gathered angrily in their hiring hall and sent a telegram to the trustees.

"We protest the arrogant, overbearing action in dismissing our president without consulting the membership," the telegram read. "We demand an explanation of this vicious act."

The trustees' announcement said simply:

"Hal Banks has been fired. All members are asked to maintain internal discipline."

The trustees named Charles Turner, 40, of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks to succeed Banks.

Banks refused to comment to reporters who sought him at his luxury apartment in a Montreal suburb.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a new Hope on the television screen tonight and her name is Linda.

The daughter of Bob Hope makes her debut tonight on her father's show. She plays Miss November in "Her School for Bachelors," in which Bob plays owner of a girlie magazine and night club.

Linda is 22, and she explained why she had waited so long to make her debut: "I wasn't sure show business was ready for any more Hopes. Look at all the Crosby's it had taken!"

Besides, she wanted to enter the family profession prepared. With that in mind, she has been taking lessons in acting from Agnes Moorehead. She studies both in private with Miss Morehead and in group classes.

She graduated from St. Louis University in Missouri and taught English for a couple of years at Our Lady Queen of Angels high school in downtown Los Angeles.

She continues to teach one day a week, but now she is giving serious thought to a career in entertainment. She saw her chance for a break when she found the script of "Her School for Bachelors" at the Hope Manse.

She landed the part as one of the magazine dummies. Nine lines and everything. She confessed it was not really her acting debut. She had appeared in one of Bob's films, "That Uncertain Feeling."

"No lines in that one," she admitted. "In fact, no face. I was standing at a filing cabinet with my back to the camera."

She's hoping for bigger things, especially in the field of light comedy or drama. But she admitted that her interest leans more toward direction. She plans to go to Europe this spring with the intention of studying the methods of Ingmar Bergman, Tony Richardson and others.

Color Line at Hendrix Broken

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Hendrix College Board of Trustees voted Wednesday to admit any qualified student regardless of race, color or national origin.

Dr. Marshall T. Steel, Hendrix president, said the resolution had been under study by the board for several years.

The board authorized the Admissions Committee to admit any qualified student. Steel said Hendrix never has had in application from a Negro student.

The trustees also voted to ask the federal Housing and Home Finance Administration for a $600,000 loan to build a new women's dormitory.

A new men's dormitory is under construction. The two structures will enable the school to house 800 students on campus.

Hendrix is a private Methodist Church school.

Since 1810 Lawrence County has had five county seats—Davidsonville, Smithville, Clover Bend, Powhatan, and now Walnut Ridge.

BETWEEN FREEDOM AND TYRANNY—A wire fence, a locked gate and men on guard are the sobering sights at the northeast gate of Guantanamo naval base in Cuba. The gate is at the point where the water pipes from Cuba were cut by the Guantanamo commander. The lowered flag on the other side of the gate is the Cuban standard.

World More Moral Than Century Ago

LONDON (AP)—Dr. John Heenan, archbishop of Westminster and leader of Britain's four million Roman Catholics, blames psychiatrists and some of the clergy for looser sexual morals in Britain.

Yet he thinks England is, on balance, a much more moral place than it was in the days of Charles Dickens (1812-1870).

"People will confuse immorality as mainly concerned with sex, fornication, adultery and so on," said the archbishop in an interview. "But oppression of poor is what really cries out to heaven for vengeance. Then, too, there is the complete contempt most comfortably off people—and I don't just mean the rich—have for the down-and-out. That's immoral, if you like."

Dr. Heenan said of present-day youth in Britain:

"There has been a growth of violence. Perhaps the cult of youth is largely to be blamed. And that was started by the government as a kind of answer to the Hitler youth during the war. It was in the spirit of the times."

The real trouble with youth, Dr. Heenan thinks, is that it is made too much fuss of. People who get fussed over get spoiled, he says.

Dr. Heenan, who had long experience in London's East End slums as a parish priest before becoming a bishop says:

"I think it's true that there are more criminals today. But then there are more good people, too—because there are more people. In the 16th century the population of the whole of England was nothing like the present population of London alone. With the number of people still increasing by natural growth and immigration, it would be extraordinary indeed if we didn't have more prisons."

The archbishop does not think any dramatic action such as the use of worker-priests will help the church regain its lost contact with those who don't go to church.

School Liable in Patrol Cases

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—School officials may be held liable for accidents that occur near a school where members of a school safety patrol are on duty, the attorney general's office said today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. John P. Gill wrote in an opinion that the key consideration in any lawsuit that might arise from such an accident would be whether school officials were negligent in supervising the safety patrol.

Gill answered questions from school officials in McCrory and Hoxie.

America Odd Place, Seen Through TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—If a stranger from abroad suddenly found himself in front of a television set in the United States, he could get a weird impression of this country and its inhabitants.

He could be forgiven if he decided the only really fine men of the nation were lawyers, doctors, school teachers, social workers, public and private eyes and peripatetic ranchers.

He might deduce that crime lords operate everywhere through connivance with corrupt politicians; that rich old men always live in enormous houses of Spanish mission-English Tudor architecture, have bars in every room, unfaithful young wives and are deeply involved in shady deals.

He could conclude logically that every corporation has a mousy accountant on the verge of absconding with company funds; that moderately successful young businessmen live in the suburbs and are putty in the hands of antiseptic, Machiavellian blonde wives.

His impression of our average citizens, if he studied television commercials, might send him scurrying home in despair.

Our men are usually depicted having ecstatic moments shaving, applying hair oil or lighting a cigarette upon completion of a parachute jump or a deep-sea dive.

husbands from taking them dancing.
It isn't really that way, friends, just in television land.

More Cuts May Be Made by Johnson

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—After four months, some rumblings of stress and more change are audible in the top team President Johnson inherited from the late John F. Kennedy.

Pump press secretary Pierre Salinger quit on Thursday to test his charm on California voters, in quest of a U.S. Senate seat. He was the fourth of Kennedy's first-stringers to leave the White House.

On the same day, a report was aired that Secretary of State Dean Rusk planned to resign in November. It was instantly deplored by all concerned.

Salinger's departure, apparently a most amicable leave-taking, could well be an omen of further changes, if only for the simple reason that an election year is a restless time for politicians.

Yet the White House resignations have been remarkably few to date, considering the difficulty of adjustment since Nov. 22 for the Kennedy men who virtually idolized their slain chief.

Despite the pressures of the political season, there has been no authoritative word, official or unofficial, from any member of Kennedy's Cabinet indicating a departure from the team before the election.

In reply to a question at his news conference Saturday, Johnson said he has seen no sign that supporters of the late president are anxious to leave his administration.

If Johnson is re-elected, each Cabinet officer will submit a pro forma resignation, leaving Johnson free to form his own administration.

Only Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has stated he does not intend to stay on after November even if Johnson asks him to. But others, too, may feel they will have discharged by then their obligation to help Johnson preserve the continuity of government.

There have been some visible strains, many rumors, and occasional behind-scenes skirmishing over policy. Some Kennedy men are closer to the center of power than they were before; some have moved away from the inner orbit of influence.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara enjoys even greater favor, if possible, than he did under Kennedy; he is the Cabinet strong man.

Rusk, despite last week's rumors, has seemed to be farther "in" than before; a series of overseas flare-ups has demanded one foreign policy huddle after another.

As was inevitable, Robert Kennedy's influence has diminished sharply. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, though deeply respected for proven ability, is less close personally to Johnson than he was to President Kennedy.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP)—Henri Lafon de Lagencle, 61, French ambassador, died Sunday. He had served in the Dominican Republic since July 1961.

Maximum temperatures Sunday were in the 50s and 60s, while overnight low readings today ranged from upper 20-degree marks in the northeast to a 43 at Texarkana.

The rain should total about one inch in scattered showers at the beginning and the last of this week, the Weather Bureau said.

AWARD OF HONOR TO THE
JESSE R. STEED
FAMILY FOR DISCOVERING THE JOY
ELECTRIC

... AND THAT MEANS Electric Heat!

There are so many things to fall in love with at the Steeds' beautiful home it's no wonder every member of this happy family enjoys every minute spent at home! Their home is located in Little Rock's Chicot Terrace—a sub-division in which every home is built to Total Electric Gold Medallion standards.

But if the Steeds could put their finger on any one feature they liked best it would be their Flameless Heat Pump! This is the heart of the gracious comfort the family enjoys season in and season out. It keeps them crispy cool in summer... toasty warm in winter, switching from cooling to heating and back again... automatically! It filters the air of dust and pollen and, because it's Flameless, the draperies, carpets and furnishings require less upkeep.

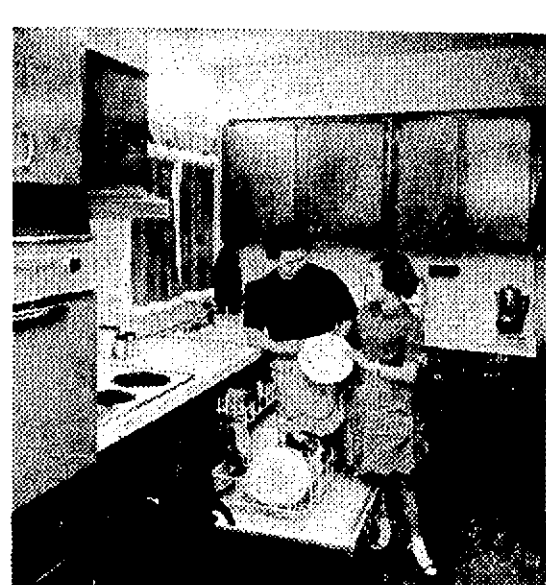

Yet, with all this year-round comfort—and a house full of work-saving appliances which use electricity—Mr. and Mrs. Steed's electric service bill averages only 83c a day—LESS than the statewide average of 87c! Why not investigate Flameless Electric Heat for your home?

Nan thoroughly enjoys the wonderful light for living that brightens every corner of the Steeds' home, and makes dressing up for a party an especially pleasant task!

What fun it is learning to cook in such clean and sparkling surroundings as an All-Electric Kitchen! Here, Mrs. Steed shows Nan the ease of Flameless cooking.

The Steeds' Electric Dishwasher is just another one of the joys of homemaking in a Gold Medallion Home, and one that is appreciated—especially by Roy and Mr. Steed!

With four active persons in the Steed family, laundering could be a chore, but the Flameless Clothes Washer and Dryer will turn it into a quick, work-free task. While each is doing its job, Mrs. Steed has time for other things.

That blast of wild fire he'd flung into the night may well have been all that saved Charlie's bacon. At least it had pinned the bushwhackers down for what time he'd used getting past those rocks and into a wind driven howl of the desert.

He hated losing Begat, but he hadn't much time to get worked up about it, having all he could do to keep hold of Begetta. She didn't like being hauled into the teeth of such a gale, did everything she could to make Charlie's progress as difficult as possible.

Bucking the scour of those sandblasting gusts was no joke in all conscience, but it was better than a bullet Medders figured, wallowing after her.

And a sight better than being forced to choose between surrendering the location of his cache or going to jail on the trumped-up charges of that ungrateful jeezbel — her and Jones!

He found it hard to understand people like that. Ready to do anything, just so it showed a profit!

He pushed along with what speed he could, knowing from much experience of this region the worst of the blow probably wouldn't last much over a couple of hours. The more ground they could cover before beginning to leave tracks the better. In fact, Charlie concluded after much weighing of possible courses, it might turn out to be smarter not to head for the cave.

Crossing this stretch of the Avra was likely to take the best part of the night and no guarantee of being under cover then. Once the sun got up, and with no sand blowing, it might be possible with a glass for someone back there in the mountains to get a line on them — just to catch a flash of movement would be all Burks would need.

Deciding he'd best not risk it, Medders let Begetta drift a bit to the left, more into the east if there's been any east to see. This allowed her to feel she was putting something over; it threw the wind on their flank, making for faster and easier travel.

The valley was narrower off in that quarter. In addition to offering a shorter trek to cover, it held the added attraction of dropping any sign they might eventually leave in a region Burks and his redskins could prowling to their hearts' content.

Might even carry them to Sombrero Butte or, beyond, up into the Twin Buttes country, which was all right with Charlie. This was south of the mission, and he knew for a fact there was considerable float all through those hills.

Burks might very well pick up some chunks, wedding him to the natural and erroneous conviction he was hot on the trail of his quarry's hidden lode.

They'd be cooked sure enough if they couldn't find water. The wind continued vigorously to pummel, lash and tug at them. He had never known it so belligerent or persistent.

Perhaps he dozed. Next thing he knew — at least the next time he noticed — Begetta was stone-still stopped and peering back at him reproachful.

Medders jerked up his head. The wind had quit. He guessed it was still short of morning but nowhere near as dark as it had been — nor was this all. He could remember closing his eyes against the slackening of the gale. There was something just ahead, looming up through murk like

... well, it looked like a wall ... probably a cliff or a butte. Begetta had apparently pulled into the lee ...

He looked again, legs clamping

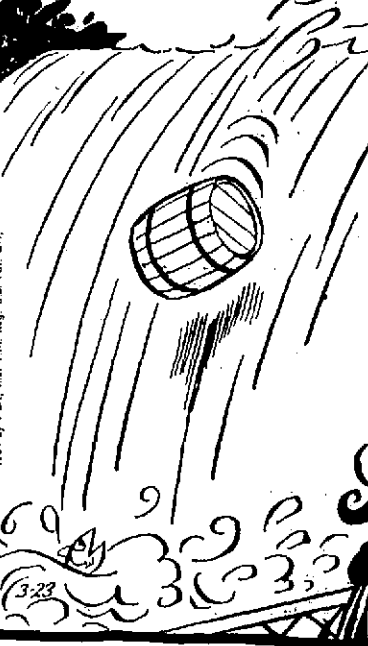

It was a wall. Incredibly staring, with a kind of sick horror it came over him he was staring at the rear of Fritchett's stable. He was back in town! Turned around by that storm he'd come full circle.

He couldn't stay here. And no one but a idiot would think to head back into that desert, crawling like it was with T. K. deputies and gunslings.

Clutched by panic, held fast by facts, Medders hunkered there gulping like a buzzard too gorged to get off the ground. There were other ways open — he didn't have to head west. There was no lack of hideouts

Bradley Won But Coach Raps His Offense

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Hearing Chuck Orsborn talk after his Bradley basketball team won the National Invitation Tournament for the third time, a listener could have been excused for thinking the victory had bizarrely affected the Braves' coach.

"We probably have the worst offense in the country," the balding Orsborn said following the surprisingly easy 86-54 romp over New Mexico.

That's like Walt Disney accepting another Oscar and saying his cartoons are the worst in Hollywood.

The game was the most lopsided final in the NIT's 27-year history. The Lobos entered it Saturday with one of the best defensive teams in the nation, having allowed 56.2 points a game.

But let Orsborn continue. "We don't have regular patterns," he explained. "I have boys who like to run, jump and shoot, get the ball in the hole. We like to have as little dribble as possible."

Whatever kind of offense it was, New Mexico couldn't stop it. At the same time, the second-seeded Braves completely stymied the Lobos' offense.

Ira Harge had been expected to carry the fourth-seeded Lobos who were in their first NIT. But the 6-foot-8 star played only 18 minutes, getting three personal fouls in the first eight minutes and adding the final two early in the second half.

Even while Harge was in the game, though, Bradley's Joe Strawder prevented him from getting the ball too often. Refusing to accept all of the credit, the 6-foot-9 Strawder explained what he called New Mexico's mistake.

"They should've tried to get the ball into him from the side I wasn't on," he said. "I couldn't have beat him out over there. He played me the same way I played him, but our guys got the ball to me around him."

Orsborn praised Strawder, whom he had criticized for weak play in Bradley's quarter-final triumph against St. Joseph's.

"I think if he had played as well in the first game as in the last two he might have got that trophy Tart got," the coach said. He referred to the most valuable player award won by Bradley's Levern Tart, 6-foot-7, who led the Braves with 31 points in three games.

Tart also headed The Associated Press' all-tournament team. Others named were Harge, Harold Hairston of NYU, Steve Courtin of St. Joseph's and Mike Silliman, whose jump shot with eight seconds left brought Army a 60-59 decision over NYU for third place.

Basketball Season Not Over Yet

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The college basketball season isn't over yet.

Ordinarily it would have ended Saturday with UCLA's runaway 98-83 victory over Duke or the national championship and Bradley's 86-54 romp over New Mexico in the NIT final, but this is an Olympic year, remember?

That means there's a big show coming up April 2-4 with the Olympic tryouts at St. John's University in New York.

Eight teams, composed of the leading NCAA and NAIA college players, AAU and armed forces players, will compete for the 12 berths on the basketball team that will represent the U.S. at the Tokyo games in Japan in October.

Wat Hazzard and Gail Goodrich, who led UCLA through an unbeaten season with 30 straight victories, are among the 36 players from the NCAA named for the Olympic tryouts.

Others include Cazzie Russell of Michigan, which took third place in the NCAA championship tourney by beating Kansas State 100-90; Willie Murrell of Kansas State; Jeff Mullins of North Carolina; Barry Kramer of New York University and Bill Bradley of Princeton.

Also Cotton Nash of Kentucky Mel Counts of Oregon State, Jim Barnes of Texas Western, Ray Carey of Missouri, Jim Davis of Colorado, Wayne Estes of Utah State, Les Hunter of Chicago Loyola, Bud Koper of Oklahoma City, Doug Moon of Utah, Butch Kormives of Bowling Green and Gary Brads of Ohio State, and Garry Sloan of Evansville, the NCAA small college champs.

Brads, selected by The Associated Press as the college basketball player of the year, said Saturday, however, he planned to decline the invitation because it would interfere with his studies.

Fred Hetzel of Davidson, Ron Bonham of Cincinnati, Joe Caldwell of Arizona State, Ollie Johnson of San Francisco, Bennie Lenox of Texas A&M, Manny Newsome of Western Michigan, Steve Thomas of Xavier, Ohio, and John Thompson of Providence also were named along with Dave Stallworth of Wichita, Paul Silas of Creighton and Willie Jones of Villanova.

The players will be divided in Red, White and Blue teams for practice games this week before the trek to New York.

The Red team, composed of Bradley, Kormives, Jones, Estes, Mullins, Silas, Russell, Stallworth and Counts, will play on Thursday in Los Angeles against UCLA.

The White and Blue teams will play at Cincinnati Thursday. On Saturday, UCLA will play another group at Evansville, Ind. while the other selected players appear at Lexington, Ky. in a benefit for the basketball Hall of Fame.

Dodge City, Kan. again won the national junior college championship Saturday by beating Casper, Wyoming, 73-68. A week ago Rockhurst won the NAIA championship by upsetting Pan American.

UA Share of TV Comes to $78,000

DALLAS (AP)—The University of Arkansas will get $78,000 next fall as its share of Southwest Conference proceeds from televised football games.

The conference will receive about $600,000 from the televising of one game nationally and five regionally.

Arkansas' Oct. 3 game with Texas Christian is one of the regional telecasts. Texas plays Oklahoma in the national game. Texas will receive $90,000 from television, while Arkansas, Southern Methodist, TCU, Rice and Texas Tech will get $78,000 and Baylor and Texas A&M get $60,000 each.

Traveler Ticket Sales Lagging

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Advance sale of tickets for the Arkansas Travelers is running slightly below last year, Earl Quigley, business manager, said.

The Travelers led the minors with advance sales of $100,000 in 1963. By this time last year the baseball club had taken in $36,568 compared to $35,104 so far this year.

Little Rock is the smallest city among the 20 in Triple-A baseball, but it was one of the few AAA clubs to report a profit during 1963.

Pine Bluff Team First in Tourney

MEMPHIS (AP)—The B and S Supply Squad from Pine Bluff, Ark., took over first place in the Southern Bowling Congress tournament Sunday with a 3,081 total.

The Dover Corp. of Memphis fell to second place with a 3,031 bowled last week, and Memphis Engraving team was third with 3,029.

Harry Loehner of Memphis held his singles lead with a 726 series, followed by Joe Plunk of Memphis with a 710.

William Borden of Florence, Ala., took over first place in the all-events with a 1,902 nine game score. Ed Walton of Memphis is second with 1,888 and Jim Wyckoff of Little Rock third with 1,872.

A pair of Memphians, Eddie Evans Jr. and Bill Hannah, hold the double lead with a 1,321. Tommy Roberts and M. S. Dickey of Bessemer, Ala., are second with 1,315, and Howard Summerford and Bill Bishop of Birmingham gained third place with 1,303.

State Ends Grid Practice With Win

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State wound up spring football practice by beating the alumni 22-16 in a game Saturday night.

The varsity built up a 22-8 halftime lead.

Bill Caldwell scored the all-18-yard pass from Gary Everett, Ken Mashburn added a touchdown on a five-yard run, everett went over from seven yards out and Dan Summers kicked a 41-yard field goal.

Bill Caldwell scored the alumni touchdown in the first half on a one yard dive.

The alumni scored with 40 seconds left in the game on a 3-yard run by quarterback Sammy Weir.

Billy Casper Outlasts Jack Nicklaus

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Plump Billy Casper is the latest tournament winner, but 1964 looks like the first year in a decade when no great stars will emerge to dominate the professional golf ranks.

When Casper collected his $7,500 first prize after fighting off a challenge by Jack Nicklaus on the last green to win the $50,000 Doral Open Sunday, he became the 11th winner in 11 tournaments this year.

Casper shot a final round 70 for a 277 total. Nicklaus had a 278. Rex Baxter had 71 for 279 and third place. Tied for fourth with 281s were Sam Snead with a final day 71 and Jack Rule Jr. with a 72.

During a 14-tournament span reaching back into last year, there have been 14 separate winners.

Never in Professional Golfers Association history has there been such a long period in which no player has won twice.

With Sunday's victory, Casper rocketed from 43rd to fifth place in the money-winning list with a total of $10,112. In eight earlier tournaments, he had cashed only $2,612 in pay checks.

Nicklaus, winner of one tournament this year, picked up $4,000 for second place to stay on top of the money list with $17,500.

Two strokes behind Casper going to the 18th, Nicklaus dropped his second shot 20 feet from the pin. Casper hit his second into a sand trap at the edge of the green and blasted out to 18 feet.

By sinking his putt for a birdie, while Casper was two-putting for a bogey, Nicklaus could have forced an 18-hole playoff and took plenty of time lining up his shot as the tension mounted.

But the ball missed the cup by two inches and rolled three feet past. Casper then missed his putt but happily accepted the bogey that left him a stroke ahead.

UCLA Proves Little Team Can Be Best

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—UCLA's swift, quick gang of ball pirates are NCAA champions and unique in the modern era of college basketball because:

1. They did what many said couldn't be done—win without a starter taller than 6-foot-5 and with their two best scorers on the backline.

2. They are the only team ever to take a perfect record into the NCAA title game and still rank a distinct underdog. Most coaches and writers picked Duke, with two 6-10 players, but UCLA ripped them apart 98-83 before a record Municipal Auditorium crowd of 10,864 Saturday night.

Unquestionably, the underdog role ranked the proud Bruins. Kenny Washington, a 6-foot-3 jumping jack who came off the bench with 26 points and 12 rebounds for UCLA, put it this way:

"Maybe this doesn't sound right, but we wanted to prove we were No. 1. We didn't like being everyone's underdogs. We were ready, weren't we?"

All-America Walt Hazzard, the great passer who directed the blistering Bruins, fouled out late in the game with the victory clinched and walked up and down behind the UCLA bench crowing "We can't beat 'em — don't you read the papers?"

Johnny Wooden the veteran UCLA coach, insisted it was no surprise the Bruins out-rebounded Duke 51-44.

"I've said all along quickness is as important as height in rebounding. We are quick and we can jump. This club has great courage and it came as close to its potential as any I've coached," Wooden said.

UCLA dreaded zone press harassed Duke, forcing the Atlantic Coast champs to give up the ball 29 times on errors. Most of the time Hazzard, Gail Goodrich and the others simply stole it. A 16-point streak late in the first half erased a 30-27 Duke edge and gave UCLA a 43-30 buige.

Hazzard was voted the tournament's most outstanding player. On the all-tourney team with him were Goodrich, a 27-point man in the title game; Duke's Jeff Mullins, top scorer of the tourney with 115 points in four games; Kansas State's Willie Murrell No. 2 scorer on 101 points; and Michigan's Bill Buntin, No. 3 scorer with 93.

Michigan beat Kansas State 100-90 for third place on Buntin's 33.

Robertson Celebrates New Honor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oscar Robertson celebrated being named the most valuable player in the National Basketball Association by leading the Cincinnati Royals to a 127-102 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers Sunday.

The triumph gave the Royals a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five Eastern Division semifinal playoffs.

In the Western Division semifinal playoffs the St. Louis Hawks whipped the Los Angeles Lakers 106-90 for a commanding 2-0 lead in their best-of-five set. The Hawks had beaten the Lakers 115,104 in their first game Saturday night.

It was a close game at Cincinnati until Robertson led a 13-point burst in the second period that broke a 44-44 tie. Oscar finished with 31 points, 10 of which came in the burst that put the Royals ahead to stay. Jerry Lucas added 2 for the Royals.

Hal Greer and Johnny Kerr each scored 21 points for the 76ers, who entertain the Royals at Philadelphia in the second game of the series Tuesday.

Richie Guerin, traded to the Hawks by the New York Knicks early in the season, led St. Louis with 22 points as the Hawks overcame an early 12-3 Laker lead.

The Lakers, who must win three straight to survive the series which resumes Wednesday in Los Angeles, stayed in contention until the Hawks outscored them 34-23 in the last quarter. Elgin Baylor led the Lakers with 20.

Robertson received 60 of a possible 85 first place votes and compiled a record total of 362 points on a 5-3-1 basis in the MVP balloting by NBA players

Didn't Realize She Had Won

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Carol Mann, a tall blue-eyed Chicago blonde, walked off the course Sunday without realizing she had won the 72-hole $7,500 Women's Western Open Golf Championship.

Miss Mann finished her 36-hole final on a cold, windy course in nine hours. When told her 308 total was worth $1,200 in first prize money, the 6-foot 2½ inch 23-year-old said "I can't believe it. I didn't know."

Judy Kimball and first round leader Ruth Jensen tied for second at 310 for $850, followed by Clifford Ann Creed and Judy Torluernke at 311, worth $560.

Arkansans Asked for Testimony

DALLAS (AP)—Maurice McDonald, the Camden, Ark., native who captured alleged presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, has been asked to testify before the Warren Commission in Washington this week.

McDonald, now a detective in the special service bureau of the Dallas Police Department, struggled with Oswald in a theater less than two hours after President Kennedy was assassinated.

who were not allowed to vote for their teammates.

Big Bill Russell of the championship Boston Celtics, who won the last three years, finished third with 167 points compared with 215 for runner-up Wilt Chamberlain of the Western Division champion San Francisco Warriors.

Mercury... great road car.

Mercury has a way with roads. It's designed to be a great road car. You get a solid, steadier feel, a smoother, quieter ride. Handling is easier. There's reserve power for hills, for safe passing. Where do great road car qualities like these show up? Places like Pikes Peak, Colorado. Places where competition-modified big cars meet... where Mercury is the consistent winner in the medium-price field. Can Mercury take command like this on your roads? Invest 30 minutes in a road test and see.
